

THP DEVIATION

5462

(No. 3 June 1991)

Each minor deviation must be reported in writing by the submitter or his/her agent to the region chief. Such a report must state the nature of the change, and copies of the report must be filed at the same locations as the THP itself (14 CCR § 1040). Various Amendments I and II (both not available in e-format) provide formats that should be used for notices of receipt of the amendment.

An amendment containing an item listed in 14 CCR § 1036(b) normally will be considered a substantial deviation unless the submitter requests that an item be considered by the Director as a minor deviation. In some cases, the request for consideration of a deviation as minor deviation may not contain sufficient information for the Director to concur. Under these circumstances, it may be desirable to accept the amendment for filing as a substantial deviation with the following information noted on the Notice of Filing for the amendment and provided to the submitter:

"This is a tentative determination that the amendment is a substantial deviation and the determination may be changed based upon the receipt of additional information."

The same procedures given in the instructions for THPs shall be followed for substantial deviations to the original THP (14 CCR § 1036 and 1039).

Amendments (both minor and substantial deviations) shall be numbered consecutively and separately when they are received for purposes of identification and reference. The numbering system outlined below shall be used:

- (THP No.) - (SD No. - MD No.)
- Example: 2-89-177PLA-SD9-MD21
 2-88-177PLA-Amend. 3

The format of the letter to be used in the processing of a substantial deviation shall be the same as for a THP (see Various Amendments II through III-not available in e-format).
